Cameron brings over 11 years of experience in public accounting and private industry to his client engagements. He serves clients in the private equity industry, including one of the largest global private equity organizations. Cameron has extensive experience in partnership taxation and addresses the U.S. and international tax structuring implications throughout the entire fund cycle. In addition to serving clients in the private equity industry, Cameron serves high net worth individuals and their related entities. Before joining HCVT, Cameron served in various tax roles at a global private equity organization where he was responsible for the oversight of both U.S. and international alternative investment tax structuring and individual tax compliance for firm's founders and executives.

Cameron has a bachelor's degree in accounting, and a master's in taxation from the University of Texas at Arlington. Cameron began his public accounting career at KPMG.
